

ANGELS ENLIGHTEN YOU

Angels also have the task of enlightening men, and you have had many proofs of this. How many times has a sudden light appeared to your mind, showing an excellent solution to important problems, whether in your spiritual life or your family life! Think about it.

Angels are close to you at each instant of your life, but the most challenging moment — if you wish to qualify it thus, using human words — is man's moment of death, when the demon angel launches his last battle in order to take away with him a victory.

My child, people today laugh at good Angels and deny the existence of demon angels, but if they believe Me, they would learn how to defend themselves against the dangers which surround them in life.

A few of the Saints who were particularly devoted to their Angels, had the joy of seeing them at their side. You can see them yourself with the eyes of faith, and invite them constantly to praise and bless the Lord in your place, when you cannot do it with all your faculties, and unite yourself to them when you pray alone or in the company of others.

Be certain, also, that your prayers will be carried by your Angels to Heaven on the same ladder seen by Jacob in his dream, and upon which your Angels will bring back to you graces and favors.

THE EXISTENCE of ANGELS

AN ANGEL ACCOMPANIES TOBIAS ON HIS JOURNEY

from The Message of Merciful Love,
by Jesus to Mama Carabelli

I want to speak to you of the Angels who have had such a great part in My mortal life.

These sublime creatures, whom God created at the beginning of the world, before creating man, and whom He endowed with an intelligence superior to that of man, and with a free and ever-ready will, are pure spirits, destined for the service of God from the beginning of their creation.

But one we call Lucifer, the most intelligent of all the “Angels, knowing his greatness, decided he was equal to God. Believing his power was equal to God, he rebelled against Him, bringing along with him a host of Angels who agreed with him.

This free act of seeking to be superior and to dominate others accomplished by such perfect intelligence, made pardon impossible on God’s part. These rebel angels were called demons, and were cast out of Heaven.

They also have free will, and so they can roam the world and tempt people to evil. They influence the weak side of each person, and try to make them selfish and evil. They get joy from man’s wickedness; however, they cannot do anything to the soul of man without man’s consent, by his own free will.

THE GOOD ANGELS

As to the existence of Angels, you can deduce it from reason alone. If, in fact, you consider the magnificent order which reigns in the universe, you can immediately perceive that it would lack in the admirable scale of creation if, above men, there were no creatures superior to him.

After the sin of Adam and Eve, an Angel thrust them out of Paradise. The apparitions of Angels close to many personages are there to prove not only their existence, but also the task which they have, of guiding man to God, by rendering him even material services and assisting him to overcome many difficulties.

But, at the beginning of My human life, the Angels became the great Announcers of extraordinary events. The Annunciation to Mary, that to the shepherds, those to Joseph, and to the Magi demonstrate to men what familiarity these creatures have had with the Holy Family of Nazareth and with the families of the world.

GOD HAS A PLAN

Know, My child, that the Lord does everything to a plan. Just as now in the instructions that I give to you, I address Myself to all souls who will read this and who want to listen to Me, so also in each event, be it of the Old or New Testament, God aimed at the good, not only for His Chosen People, but also for all the peoples of all times.

GUARDIAN ANGEL

Just as an Angel accompanied Tobias on his journey and comforted Joseph in his incertitude, so too, each man is accompanied on his journey through life by an Angel who sees God constantly. Under this Guardian Angel’s direction, man is helped to accomplish God’s will and to attain eternal salvation.

This is how it is in the uncertainties and afflictions of life. Angels are beside each person to help him, to encourage him, and to protect him from dangers. Oh! If you only knew from how many dangers you have been preserved, thanks to your Angel... dangers of soul and body!
